MARJORIE POWELL ALLEN CHAPEL

Opened in 1996, this nondenominational chapel features doors that stretch 13 feet high. The chapel, designed by E. Fay Jones, has 2,550 square feet of glass, allowing the building to blend with the surrounding prairie. It is 47 feet high, 102 feet long and seats up to 120 people.

The building is named for Marjorie Powell Allen, who often rested under a tree nearby. The outdoor lighting, fountain, and flagstone courtyard, plus seats, sconces, candle holders and lecterns all were designed by the architects.
